On a planet that consists of 70 percent water...

Why do people die of thirst?

In a body that gets its mass for almost 60 percent out of water...

Why are we alienated from this hurt! Pain... suffering...

Do we think water is outside ourselves, dead, a servant to human need?

Are we blind to industry polluting all streams of life through commodities?

Our hearts – 73% water...

Have we forgotten who we are? What we are made of?

Blind to our own scars, insensitive to our nature?

Water...

It created us...

It stayed with us –

And everyday

It flows through us

Let's talk about the flow... it kind of goes... down the drain

Where she picks up toxic waste to-go, as she moves to the next plane

She vaporizes in the air and picks up a thing or two...

Industrialization pollutes in solids, liquids and gas too

So where-ever water meets a factory, a mine or city

It does not come out alive... or at least not as pretty!

I don't tell you this to get you down, make you feel sour

I am here to shake you up and to empower

Your voice – that is powered by the air from your lungs, to speak of water like your life depends on it...

To act, to work together... to be astonished...

That Humanity lived in peace with water for millions of years

But with only a few wasteful generations clean water supplies are scarce

But everyday EVERY living thing on the earth gets thirsty

Putting a price on it - only makes it more dirty...

As 99.999 percent of all living beings do not make any money
But they do contribute to the natural balance...
Excluding their water rights is really not funny

So I advocate: Free drinkable water for all!
Without it humanity and all other species will fall.

oil spills, fracking, dumping pharmaceutical chemicals, e-waste – are we our own curse?

Did I read there is more plastic than plankton in the ocean today?

Have we honestly forgotten life operates in cycles?

– all shit will come back our way...

Each day 385.000 cellphones and 143.000 computers are thrown away
in North America alone

Lead and mercury seeping into groundwater – can you see things go wrong?

Each year a million sea birds and 100.000 sharks, turtles, dolphins and

How can we still pretend all is peachy and fantastic?

Have you ever wondered when you threw something away:
